

CENTURYLINK DO NOT CALL POLICY – Residential and Business Customers

At CenturyLink, we take our responsibilities about customer information and customer service very seriously and comply with all state and federal "Do Not Call" laws.

By way of background, residential customers who have their information on federal or state Do Not Call lists typically may not be contacted over the telephone by marketers. However, these laws and regulations generally do not restrict calls to existing CenturyLink residential and business customers or to customers with whom CenturyLink has had a business relationship within the last 18 months.

If you are a CenturyLink residential or business customer and prefer not to receive CenturyLink marketing telephone calls, just ask us to place you on our internal, CenturyLink "Do Not Call" list. CenturyLink also accepts requests from non-customers. You can make your request:

There are a few more things to be aware of:

- The Do Not Call request must be made by a person responsible for the telephone account.
- CenturyLink will need a list of all of the telephone numbers that are to be restricted.
- If your telephone number ever changes, you must give us your new information for your Do Not Call status to remain in effect.
- Please allow thirty days for your information to be removed from all CenturyLink marketing lists and systems.

Being on the internal, CenturyLink Do Not Call list means you won't receive marketing calls from anyone representing CenturyLink. We may contact you, however, for non-marketing or non-solicitation purposes, which could include surveys or billing and other service-related matters.
